Teachers force closures

Walkout. School daycare, extended day programs to operate

Legal strike or not, elementary teachers effectively shuttered Ottawa public elementary schools Friday.

An Ontraio Labour Relations Board hearing over whether a planned walkout in protest of the province imposing a contract on teachers was effectively rendered moot for parents and students. Around 8:15 p.m., the Ottawa Carelton District School Board tweeted to parents that schools would be closed. A previous tweet said a ruling by the OLRB could be hours away.

As parents were anxiously waiting Thursday night on the OLRB decision, some teachers said nothing would stand in their way.

"Luckily our right to protest is a federal right and the province can't take that right away from us," said Kendra Brooks, an elementary school teacher from Ottawa, Thursday at a protest in front of MPP Yasir Naqvi's Catherine Street office. "Protests are never illegal as long as they're peaceful."

Brooks crowded in front of the Liberal MPP's office with dozens of other teachers and Elementary Teachers' Federation of Ontario members. Cars whizzing by during rush hour traffic honked their horns in support of the protest as some teachers chanted, "Kill the bill."

Brooks said she plans on attending the protest even though she admits it will inconvenience students and parents.

"It's inconveniencing us, too," she said. "I would love nothing more than to spend the day with my 22 kids. I think they're wonderful and I will miss them."

"But I think that it's a bigger story than that. It's a bigger picture than that. I think that whatever I'm doing now is protecting them in the future."

While union officials shied away from calling the walkout a "strike," Ontario Premier Dalton McGuinty showed no such trepidation Wednesday evening.

"Strikes before the holidays were disappointing, and they were a real inconvenience to parents, but they were legal," McGuinty told reporters.

"A strike on Friday would be an illegal strike."

As of press time, the OLRB had not released its decision on the planned walkout.

Man charged after west-end sexual assault

Ottawa police have charged an Ottawa man with sexual assault after an incident in the city's west end.

According to Staff Sgt. Frank D'Aoust, the suspect is accused of unwanted sexual touching during a massage-therapy session in July 2012. The incident is alleged to have occurred in Ottawa's West End, although police are not giving the specific location.

Mario Possamai, 39, has been charged with one count of sexual assault. He was released after promising to appear in court on Feb. 23.

According to D'Aoust, Possamai is a freelance massage therapist and works at a number of different locations, as well as at a massage parlour in his home.

Paramedics respond

Toddlers injured in auto accident

Two toddlers were hospitalized after a car collision in Kanata Thursday morning.

Ottawa paramedics responded to the intersection of McElroy Drive and Rickey Place just before 9 a.m. Thursday. They said they treated a two-year-old girl for head and arm injuries as well as possible internal injuries.

She is listed in serious, but stable condition in hospital.

Another girl, also two years old, was treated for bruises. She is in stable condition in hospital. Paramedics said the cause of her injuries is undetermined at this point.

A babysitter and a third child were not injured, paramedics said. Police said no charges would be laid in the incident.

Daycare-subsidy snub shocks grad students

Shifted. City changed child-care-funding policy in Sept. 2012 to focus on first-degree students

ALEX BOUTILIER
alex.boutillier@metronews.ca

Graduate students' societies say they're "shocked" to find out Ottawa City Hall is refocusing child-care funding to undergraduate and high school students.

The move means that some masters- and doctorate-level students who counted on the provincially funded, city-administered subsidies will have to shoulder the full burden of child-care costs.

"We are in a knowledge-based economy, and these student parents are trying to improve their lives and the lives of their families," said Anna Goldfinch, vice-president of Carleton's Graduate Students' Society. "It's completely unfair for them to be penalized for pursuing that."

The city's policy changed in September 2012, according to Ottawa's general manager of community and social services, Aaron Burry. It now reads that students, excluding those enrolled in masters or doctoral courses, are eligible for funding.

In numbers

20%

According to Ottawa City Hall, the number of families seeking child-care subsidies has increased by 20 per cent over the last year.

Despite that language, Burry said graduate students are still eligible for a subsidy based on availability — but students in undergraduate and high school courses are of a higher priority for the limited funds.

But in an email provided to Metro, a city child-care-subsidy administrator said graduate students currently receiving the subsidy have been "grandfathered" only until the end of April 2013, and that those students would not be eligible for funding in the future.

That means Carleton doctoral student Samantha King will have to put her neuroscience degree on hold.

"I would have essentially take a leave from school, and stay home until Liam, who is my oldest, went to school," King said.

King, who has two children, said dropping her work now would likely mean she would have to start her research from scratch, putting her behind a number of years.

8-storey mid-rise on Beechwood will 'rejuvenate' area: Developer

Rising from the ashes. Minto development aims to bring new life to area after 2011 fire; condos, shops and restos planned

graham.lanktree@metronews.ca

A new eight-storey mid-rise on Beechwood Avenue promises to revitalize an area New Edinburgh residents have called an "eyesore" since a fire razed 12 businesses on the site and left dozens homeless in early 2011, developers said Thursday.

"It's our hope that this building will rejuvenate the site," said Brent Strachan, vice-president of mid- to highrise development at Minto Group Inc., of the fenced-off property at the corner of Beechwood Avenue near the Vanier Parkway. "You'll see that whole strip come to life with more shops and restaurants."

A deal to buy the land is in place, he said, but still needs to be closed.

Strachan said the development will have ground-level retail space and roughly 130 to 150 condo units aimed at young professionals, first-time home buyers and those looking to downsize after retirement.

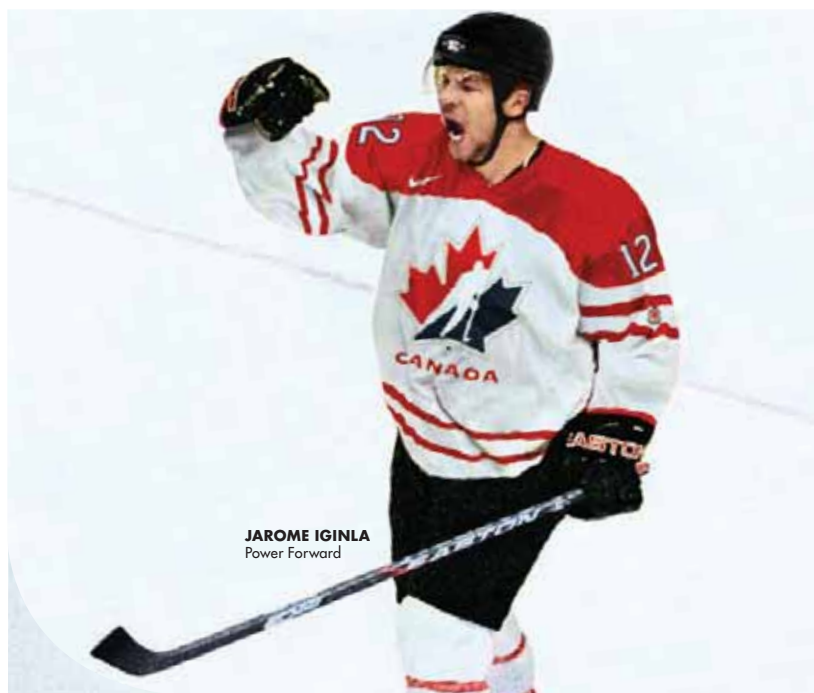

An 11-storey condo development called the Kavanaugh will bookend Beechwood Avenue.

"It will definitely bring more people back to that stretch," Strachan said, adding that the developer hopes to bring the building to market this year after the city reviews the plan's zoning application and provides its feedback.

"We think we can fit into the streetscape and provide what the community is hoping for," he said of plans to present the designs at a closed meeting of New Edinburgh's community association on Jan. 16.

A plan to redevelop Beechwood Avenue with an eight-storey mixed-use mid-rise will bring the street to life, says developer Minto. GRAHAM LANKTREE/METRO

Hudson Bay fears

Trapped whales safe ... or are they?

A Quebec town is cautiously celebrating after a dozen killer whales trapped by sea ice appear to have reached safety amid the shifting floes of Hudson Bay.

Locals in Inukjuak say two hunters reported Thursday that the waters had opened up around a single breathing hole in the ice where the orcas had frantically bobbed for air.

Killer whales surface through a small hole in the ice this week in northern Quebec. THE CANADIAN PRESS

But fears remained that water currents and ever-moving ice in the massive bay may have boxed the animals in somewhere else.

Pregnant teen safe after Amber Alert, police say

Saskatchewan RCMP say a missing, pregnant teenager who was the subject of an Amber Alert is safe.

RCMP said Thursday evening the girl and her 16-year-old boyfriend were brought by members of his family to a detachment in Swift Current, Sask., without incident.

The 14-year-old girl is eight months pregnant.

The Mounties said the alert was originally issued because of allegations the girl was forcibly taken from her family's home in Maple Creek, Sask., on Wednesday night. But the boy's mother says it was all a misunderstanding.

The Youth Criminal Justice Act bans identification of a youth suspect.

The alert was issued after the girl's family reported a pair of intruders wearing ski masks burst into their home.

Landmark 'summit'

First Nations leader Atleo acknowledges his mandate has been dramatically weakened

New roadblocks threatened late last night to torpedo a critical meeting Friday between aboriginal leaders and Prime Minister Stephen Harper.

The head of Canada's largest aboriginal group acknowledged he'll be forced to go into the meeting — if it takes place at all — with a divided membership and weakened mandate.

Shawn Atleo, national chief of the Assembly of First Nations, says he has made mistakes and the organization he leads has made mistakes.

But at a news conference Thursday night he pleaded with fellow chiefs to put aside their divisions or those splits will be exploited by governments across the country.

Atleo was holding late-night meetings with the chiefs — who elected him last July — ahead of Friday's meeting with Harper and two of his cabinet ministers.

Spence started it

It was a month-long protest by Attawapiskat chief Theresa Spence — who is eating only fish broth — that triggered the idea of a meeting between aboriginal leaders and Prime Minister Stephen Harper.

• Problem? Manitoba and Ontario chiefs have threatened not to attend unless Gov. Gen. David Johnston is there. He has now agreed to a request from Harper to host a ceremonial meeting with First Nations leaders at Rideau Hall.

aimed at quelling a growing wave of protests and blockades organized by the Idle No More movement that has found inspiration from Theresa Spence.

Spence, chief of Ontario's Attawapiskat reserve has been on a liquid-only diet for four weeks to draw attention to the plight of First Nations across the country.

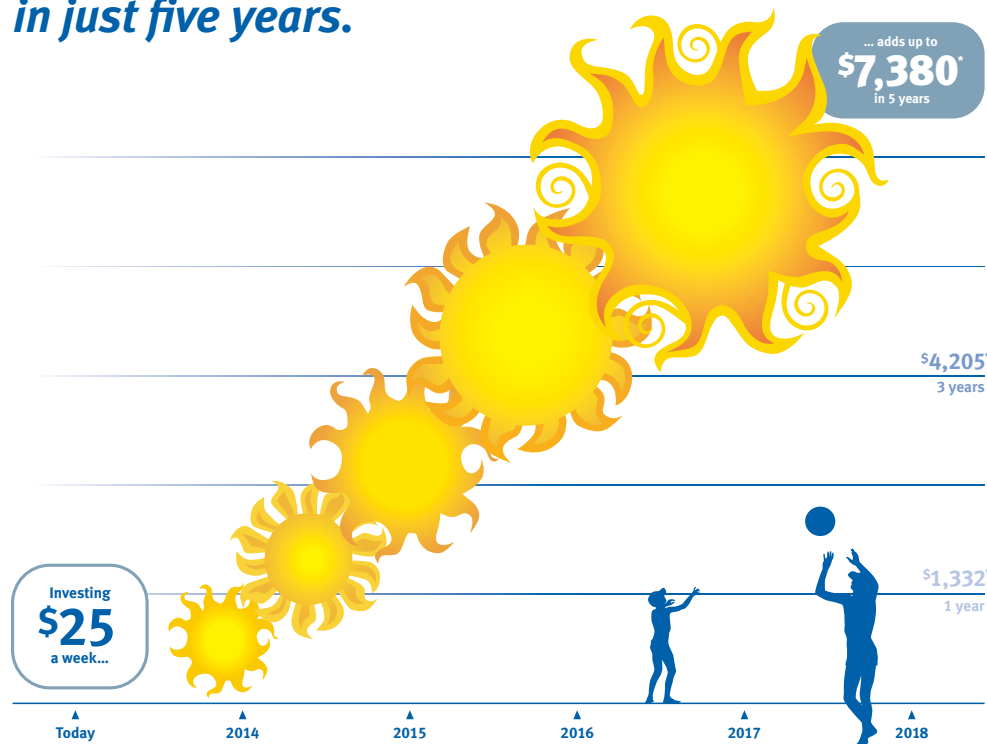

The refusal of prominent chiefs to take part in Friday's meeting could undermine any agreement that comes out of the gathering.

Bombings in Pakistan leave at least 115 dead

Separate incidents. Responsibility for various blasts blamed on militant sectarians, separatists and the U.S.

A series of bombings in different parts of Pakistan killed at least 115 people on Thursday, including 81 who died in a sectarian attack on a bustling billiard hall in the southwest city of Quetta, officials said.

The blasts punctuated one of the deadliest days in recent years in Pakistan, where the government faces a bloody insurgency by Taliban militants in the northwest and Baluch militants in the southwest.

The country is also home to many enemies of the U.S. that Washington has frequently targeted with drone attacks. A U.S. missile strike Thursday killed five suspected militants in the seventh such attack in two weeks, Pakistani intelligence officials said.

A billiard hall in Quetta, the capital of Baluchistan province, was hit by twin blasts about five minutes apart on Thursday night, killing 81 people and wounding more than 120 others, said a senior police officer.

The billiard hall was located in an area dominated by Shiite Muslims. Many of the people who rushed to the scene after the first blast were hit by the second bomb, which caused the roof of the building to collapse, he said.

Police officers, journalists and rescue workers who responded to the initial explosion were also among the dead, police said.

The sectarian militant group Lashkar-e-Jhangvi claimed responsibility for the attack to local journalists.

Radical Sunni groups often target Pakistan's Shiite minority, whom they believe hold heretical views and are not true Muslims.

Earlier in the day, a bomb targeting paramilitary soldiers in a commercial area in Quetta killed 12 people and wounded more than 40 others, said Sha-keel, the senior police officer.

The United Baluch Army, a separatist group, claimed responsibility for the attack.

Elsewhere in Pakistan, a bomb in a crowded Sunni mosque in the northwest city of Mingora killed 22 people and wounded more than 70, said senior police officer Akhtar Hayyat. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

'They are innocent.' Gang rape suspects beaten by police, lawyer claims

Police badly beat the five suspects arrested in the brutal gang rape and killing of a young woman on a New Delhi bus, the lawyer for one of the men said Thursday, accusing authorities of tampering with evidence in the case that has transfixed India.

"They are innocent," Manohar Lal Sharma said of the five suspects ahead of a court hearing, which ended quickly after it turned out some of the official court paperwork listing the charges was illegible. He said police have beaten the men and placed other prisoners into the suspects' cells to threaten them with knives, adding, "You can't believe the reality of Indian prisons."

Five men have been charged with attacking the 23-year-old woman and her male friend on a bus as it was driven through the streets of India's capital. The woman was raped and assaulted with a metal bar on Dec. 16 and eventually died of her injuries.

Rape victims are not identified in India, even if they die, and rape trials are closed to the media. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three Kurdish women, including a founder of the militant separatist group the Kurdistan Workers Party (PKK), were shot to death in Paris, French officials said Thursday. Hundreds of Kurds flooded the neighbourhood, with some claiming the deaths were a "political assassination" and blaming Turkey.

Samsung shows smartphone with bendable screen

Gadget show. Phone has matchbox-sized hard enclosure with a paper-thin, flexible colour screen attached

Eric Rudder, chief technical strategy officer of Microsoft, holds a prototype Windows smartphone with a flexible OLED display at the International Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas, Wednesday.
JAE C. HONG/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

By showing off a phone with a flexible screen, Samsung Electronics Co. is hinting at a day when we might fold up our large phone or tablet screens as if they were maps.

The Korean electronics company provided a glimpse of such a device at a keynote speech Wednesday at the International CES gadget show in Las Vegas.

The phone's screen doesn't appear flexible enough to fold in half like a piece of paper, but it could bend into a tube.

The company also showed a video of a future concept, with a phone-sized device that opens up like a book, revealing a tablet-sized screen inside.

The screen uses organic light-emitting diodes, or OLEDs. Only a thin layer of these chemicals is needed to produce a bright, colorful screen. They're used in many Samsung phones already, though with glass screens.

Testosterone levels begin to diminish in men around age 30. In fact, by the time men are 60 years old, they typically produce 60% less testosterone than they did at age 20 (a man's sexual peak). Many men over the age of 35 may already be feeling the effects of lower testosterone including:

1 Texas Chainsaw 3D. The latest version of this cult classic stunned studio execs by finishing No. 1 at the box office, nudging out Quentin Tarantino's Oscar-nominated western Django Unchained and The Hobbit: An Unexpected Journey. Chainsaw doesn't signal the end of pop culture but rather the beginning of more campy, crappy horror flicks.

2 Leafs fan in space. Astronaut Chris Hadfield was smacked down after tweeting a picture of himself holding a Toronto Maple Leafs plaque from the International Space Station. I mean, what planet is Hadfield on cheering for them? And speaking of which, what planet are the Leafs on firing their GM Brian Burke a week before the season starts?

3 iHeartRadio. The free digital radio service has a new iPhone update allowing users to create custom stations based on their moods and activities, with genres such as Skinny Jeans, Boys with Guitars. Now iHeartRadio will know right away if this boy is in a Motorhead or Air Supply mood.

4 Outhouse reward. A man got national attention after posting an ad on Kijiji offering a $500 reward after thieves took a large, brand new outhouse he had just constructed on his farm near Edmonton. If I were this guy, I'd raise a stink, too.

5 Models. The Canadian fashion industry was thrown for a loop this week when Ford Models made the shocking decision to pull out of Canada, saying it's closing its T.O. offices by the end of the month. This explains why forlorn models were seen walking the streets with catwalks tucked under their arms.

6 @kobebryant. His Laker team is having a miserable season, but at least Kobe Bryant now has Twitter to fall back on. "The antisocial has become social," tweeted @kobebryant to get the ball rolling. Kobe already has more than 700,000 followers, but he has a ways to go to catch NBA Twitter King LeBron James, who has nearly 6.9 million followers.

7 The Bachelor. This show about fame — and oh, yeah, love — kicked off its 17th season this week on ABC. Among the suitors for Sean Lowe was the drunk, creepy 50 Shades of Grey-obsessed Ashley P., who wanted to tie him up. Shockingly, she will not be getting a proposal. She was totally eliminated.

8 Kate's 31st. This is the year of Kate ... again. 2011 was her Royal Wedding, 2012 was her pregnancy announcement, and this year Royal Watchers will be waiting to see if it's a boy or girl, and the chosen name. For now, it's her 31st birthday week (Jan. 9). Last year, she got a puppy from Will. I recommend a Bugaboo baby stroller this year.

9 Bowie. The world showed some modern love for David Bowie this week when, under no pressure, he released a new single, Where Are We Now?, on his 66th birthday — and announced his first album in 10 years, The Next Day, will be coming out in March. Let's Dance to that.

10 Oprah. Lance Armstrong talks to Oprah next week in his first no-holds-barred interview since the doping scandal. Might it be he admits his guilt? The interview airs Jan. 17 on Oprah's Next Chapter and will be streamed live worldwide on Oprah.com. Must-watch TV drama on your stationary bike.

11 R.A. Dickey. Toronto got to meet their new ace/knuckleballer this week, and fell in love. Dickey is perhaps the most articulate, intelligent athlete to come to town ever. Not to mention he has the best Twitter bio ever: "Father, Husband, Christian, Pitcher, Author, Adventurer, Star Wars Nerd, Reader, Ninja in Training & Cyclist."

WORLDWIDE AEROS

Future of air travel

Revolutionary airship revealed

Is it a bird? Is it a plane? No, it's a "super-blimp"! The 79-metre Aeroscraft has been hailed as a revolutionary airship that aims to provide a new way of moving heavy and oversized cargo, especially to areas with limited or no infrastructure. California-based Aeros had recently completed construction of the airship prototype.

METRO WORLD NEWS

Engineer's viewpoint

"This is truly the beginning of a vertical global transportation solution for perhaps the next 100 years."

Aeros CEO and chief engineer Igor Pasternak

Airship features

- Payload. The craft is pegged to carry cargo of up to 66 tons — equivalent to the weight of about a dozen elephants.
- Investment. NASA and the U.S. Pentagon invested $35 million in the project.
- Future demos. Aeros is contractually obligated to show its airship's abilities, including vertical takeoff. It hopes to roll out its first flights in three years' time.

Technological innovation

Makers buoyed by breakthrough

In the past, airships have had buoyancy problems because they needed to be weighed down or tied to the ground to keep them from being carried away by the wind while cargo is unloaded. Aeros claims its Aeroscraft is "the world's first rigid variable-buoyancy air vehicle," with an ability to compress and release helium in its balloon to retain buoyancy for unloading.

METRO WORLD NEWS

Ship on a mission: Its makers believe Aeroscraft's rigid structure and landing capabilities could also see its airship used for humanitarian and military operations. WORLDWIDE AEROS

Zero Dark Thirty is getting early positive reviews with its heart-pumping-action-filled narrative. HANDOUT

Reel Guys

Find them and kill them

Morality tale. The Reel Guys agree that Zero Dark Thirty is a well-made film but differ when it comes to who enjoyed it

Richard: Mark, this isn't a who dunnit, or why dunnit, but a how dunnit. It's a detailed look at the step-by-step process that resulted in locating and exterminating bin Laden. The story begins before President Obama's famous, "We don't torture," speech, so it presents the uncomfortable, controversial truth that pitiless persuasion like sleep deprivation, boxing and waterboarding — so simple, yet so brutally, terrifyingly effective — was used to gain information. The torture scenes have been very much in the news, what did you think of them?

Mark: Revenge — I mean justice — isn't always pretty.

But it does show that you can negotiate with terrorists. The torture scenes set up the moral queasiness that runs through the whole movie.

As the C.I.A. honcho says, "Get me some names so I can kill them!"

And no one is safe in the final raid on the bin Laden compound, not even the innocent. Did I like the picture? I can only muster two cheers here. It's authentic and gritty, but much of it is a plodding procedural with only intermittent action. Richard, I think we'll agree it's a good movie, but did you enjoy watching it?

RC: I did. I thought it was a nuanced, suspenseful and terrifically exciting look at recent history. We know how the movie is going to end, so the trick is to keep us engaged through to the climax, which, for me, the movie does. Having said that, there is frequent overwriting — like the inevitable "then I'm gonna kill bin Laden" moment — which seems too easy for a movie this clever, but, for me, Kathryn Bigelow's virtuosic handling of the climatic raid scene overpowers the film's weaker moments.

MB: This is an anti-heroic view of the events, which took a lot of guts on the filmmakers' parts. There's certainly no one to "root for," especially after the torture scenes. Jessica Chastain's character is devoid of any personal life; she is her job. So is everyone else. The military has never looked so unappealing. It's a grim and ugly job, and there's a lot of truth in that point of view, but I found myself resisting the movie in many places. A lot of critics think this is the best film of the year. Richard?

RC: I'd agree with that. It is grim, but so is the story it chooses to tell. It's also heart-thumpingly exciting and well made.

MB: Well-made indeed. But in the end, I respected it more than enjoyed it.

Synopsis

The film begins on 9/11 with audio of calls coming from the Twin Towers. Stage set, the movie leaps forward two years to the brutal waterboarding and torture of an Osama bin Laden relative by Dan (Jason Clarke), a C.I.A. expert in extracting information. Overseeing the enhanced interrogation techniques is Maya (Jessica Chastain), a newly recruited officer charged with helping to track down terrorist leader bin Laden and dismantle al-Qaeda. This is her story, a carefully plotted espionage tale that flows from the clues that lead to the death of bin Laden at the hands of the Navy S.E.A.L. Team 6 in May, 2011.

Drama/Crime

Gangster Squad

Director. Ruben Fleischer

Stars. Sean Penn, Ryan Gosling,
Emma Stone

This movie will suffer from comparisons to The Untouchables and LA Confidential. It grabs the atmosphere of post war L.A. from the latter and the storyline — about an undercover team of police led by Sgt. O'Mara (Josh Brolin) who bring ruthless mobster Mickey Cohen to justice — almost beat for beat, from the former. But this is a far more blunt object than either of its forbearers. It's a period piece that spends a bit too much time exploring the down-and-dirty side of the story, but is a stylish look at a fascinating time.

The Impossible

Director. J.A. Bayona

Stars. Ewan McGregor,
Naomi Watts

After a tsunami wipes out their Thai resort, an English family are separated from one another with Maria (Watts) and her oldest son left wondering if her husband Henry (McGregor) and their two youngest sons are still alive. Based on a true story, director J.A. Bayona (the Orphanage) creates some of the year's most viscerally thrilling scenes during the initial tidal wave and its immediate aftermath. But the film peaks early and the ensuing search and flip-flopping points-of-view prove anticlimactic.

Vagrant Ali is given custody of his son when his wife is found to have used the five-year-old as a drug mule. Ali's irresponsible, angry and impoverished, working the criminal fringes as an itinerant security guard and wrestler, hardly the ideal parent. But he meets Stéphanie, who lost both legs in an aquarium whale attack, and discovers his selflessness, long buried. Ali and Stéphanie's stories are the dramatic bones of the film, but its heart is the shadowy figure of the little boy.

The Last Stand.

After his turn as the Governor, Schwarzenegger returns to what he does best

Arnold Schwarzenegger stars in The Last Stand, which opens next Friday. HANDOUT

Arnold Schwarzenegger likes to beat people to a joke. "First of all, it's great to be back," he says with a grin before anyone gets a chance to adapt his famous catchphrase to his return to movies after an extended stint running the state of California.

And he is back, he insists, starring in The Last Stand as a small-town sheriff going up against an army of mercenaries.

"As you remember, when I got into the governorship in 2003, I said I only would go and run the state for the seven years that were remaining, then I would be back in the movie business," he says.

"So it was just kind of stepping out of the movie business rather than kind of like I'm now going back to the movie business."

During that time, though, the movie business has changed, a harsh lesson for Schwarzenegger, considered a "contract genius" in his heyday for the deals he could broker for films like Eraser and Terminator 3: Rise of the Machines regardless of their success or failure.

"It's kind of like a scary thing to come back because you don't know if you're accepted or not," he admits.

"I have to also be realistic that I may see something that I may like to do, and I will go and take it to (producer) Lorenzo (di Bonaventura) and he will say, 'Oh, this is fantastic, but I don't think anyone is going to see it.' It's show business. It's the show, it's the acting, it's the performing, it's all of this, but you've got to be able to sell it also because movies cost a lot of money."

In The Last Stand, Schwarzenegger, now 65, is also hoping to get out in front of any wave of jokes about his age.

"You don't want to dwell on it, but to just throw it in, and it takes the curse off then," he says of jokes made at the expense of his advancing years in the film.

"You can make fun of yourself."

You are not alone – cat allergies are one of the most common forms of allergies in the United States and Europe. As you know, the symptoms can significantly reduce your quality of life. The sneezing, itchy and burning eyes and skin, and stuffy or runny nose can be unbearable. You may have even tried multiple different treatment options with no improvement.

That's why physicians in your area are conducting a clinical research study of an investigational medication to see if it helps reduce the symptoms associated with cat allergies.

You may qualify to participate if you are between the ages of 12-65, live with a cat, and have experienced cat allergies for at least two years.

Qualified participants will receive all study-related care, including physical exams, lab services and study medication at no cost. Insurance is not required and compensation for travel and services may be available.

After mixed reviews and speculation that the show's producers were planning to oust her, Britney Spears has decided to leave the X Factor after one season, according to Us Weekly.

Spears earned $15 million for her stint as a judge for the singing competition series.

And sources say Simon Cowell and the show's other bosses were less than thrilled by what they got for their money.

Cowell "wanted crazy Britney, but he got boring Britney," a source says.

This week, I gaze into my crystal goblet to make wine trend predictions for 2013.

Old is new, again: Look for sweeter reds, semi-sweet white Moscato and mega blends on both the white and red side to continue to dominate.

Malbec is back: Argentina may have the monopoly on the grape, but look for its food friendly personality to invade the shelves of France and non-traditional countries like South Africa.

Aussie Regionality: Down Under will make a play for your palate by focusing attention on its unique regional profiles. Expect McLaren Vale, Yarra Valley, Margaret River and Barossa Valley to take the lead.

Embraceable Iberia: This will be the year for Spain and Portugal. Forget impossible to pronounce names; they're part of the fun.

Oh, Canada: With many provinces relaxing inter-provincial shipping rules, a bottle from a small winery may be just a mouse click away. Start with Nova Scotia. L'Acadie Vineyards' 2010 Vintage Cuvée ($25.99) is a mouthful of bubbly that, if you close your eyes, will have you thinking you're drinking champagne. PRICES REFLECT THE RANGE ACROSS THE COUNTRY. ## Expanded blood testing for HGH ahead in 2013

Major League Baseball will test for human growth hormone throughout the regular season and increase efforts to detect abnormal levels of testosterone, a decision the NFL used to pressure its players.

Baseball players were subject to blood testing for HGH during spring training last year, and Thursday's agreement between management and the Major League Baseball Players Association expands that throughout the season. Those are in addition to urine tests for other performance-enhancing drugs.

Under the changes to baseball's drug agreement, the World Anti-Doping Agency laboratory in Laval, Que., will keep records of each player, including his baseline ratio of testosterone to epitestosterone, and will conduct Carbon Isotope Ratio Mass Spectrometry (IRMS) tests of any urine specimens that "vary materially."

"Hopefully someday somebody calls you and says, 'Hey, we want to give you a second chance.'"

Baseball's career hits leader Pete Rose, trying to provide a few lessons in patience after Barry Bonds, Roger Clemens and Sammy Sosa were kept out of the Hall of Fame on Wednesday, Rose agreed to a permanent ban from baseball in 1989 after the former Cincinnati Reds player and manager was accused of betting on baseball. He is also banned from inclusion on the Hall of Fame ballot, although four voters gave him write-in votes this week.

Intensity amped up in shortened season

NHL. Increased urgency could be overwhelming, say those who went through 1995 campaign

Quoted

"A 5-0 start could be golden and an 0-5 start could be deadly." Nashville Predators GM David Poile

Kelly Hrudey was not accustomed to being pulled into his coach's office for a chat after the first game of the regular season. But this wasn't a normal season.

The Los Angeles Kings goaltender could probably have been excused for showing a little rust when play resumed in January 1995 after an extended lockout and an abbreviated training camp. After all, it was essentially his first meaningful game in eight months when the Toronto Maple Leafs visited the Kings at the Great Western Forum on opening night.

"We tied 3-3 and I had let in a really bad goal," Hrudey recalled in a recent interview. "I remember (coach) Barry Melrose said, 'We just can't have that in this season because it's so short and we can't give you two weeks to get ready.'"

"I remember that part about it, there was a real sense of urgency which you don't normally have for a season."

The 48-game schedule was crammed into 104 days that year and saw NHL teams play only opponents within their own conference. There had never been anything like it before. And it proved to be a pretty wild ride.

Like many coaches who currently find themselves preparing for the start of training camps on Sunday and a Jan. 19 puck drop, Melrose felt he had done everything he possibly could to hit the ground running when the lockout ended.

Once the deal was finally signed, he was instead hit with a reality check.

"All of a sudden when it happened everything just accelerated, just blew up," said Melrose. "You went from nothing to knowing you had to start the season in 10 days. We'd been preparing for a long time but we were not really prepared."

"Things happened very quickly."

Melrose didn't finish the season behind the Kings bench. He was replaced by Rogie Vachon with just seven games to play and Los Angeles floundering in the standings at 13-21-7. THE CANADIAN PRESS

NFL. Study says Seau had brain disease when he committed suicide

When he ended his life last year by shooting himself in the chest, Junior Seau had a degenerative brain disease often linked with repeated blows to the head.

Researchers from the National Institutes of Health said Thursday the former NFL star's abnormalities are consistent with chronic traumatic encephalopathy, or CTE.

The hard-hitting linebacker played for 20 NFL seasons with San Diego, Miami and New England before retiring in 2009. He died at age 43 of a self-inflicted gunshot in May, and his family requested the analysis of his brain.

Lawsuits

The NFL faces lawsuits by thousands of former players who say the league withheld information on the harmful effects of concussions.

"It was important to us to get to the bottom of this, the truth," his ex-wife Gina Seau said. "And now that it has been conclusively determined from every expert that he had obviously had CTE, we just hope it is taken more seriously."

No hometown love for Tebow

Tim Tebow won't be playing for his hometown team.

The Jacksonville Jaguars made it clear Thursday that they have no plans to pursue the popular and polarizing New York Jets backup quarterback.

The Jets are likely to release the 2007 Heisman Trophy winner and Jacksonville native during the off-season.

"I can't imagine a scenario in which he'll be a Jacksonville Jaguar — even if he's released," new general manager David Caldwell said at his introductory news conference.

NFL. Packers QB finally gets to play a meaningful game at stadium where he used to root for 49ers

The anxiety-filled green room and draft day seem so long ago now to Aaron Rodgers.

Still, this weekend, any lingering feelings of frustration about how far he dropped will be directed at the team that passed him up with the No. 1 pick nearly eight years ago.

Rodgers brings the high-scoring Green Bay Packers (12-5) to Candlestick Park on Saturday to face No. 2 seed San Francisco (11-4-1) in prime time for a place in the NFC championship game. He'll take the field in the very venue where he became a regular fan as a boy rooting for Hall of Famers Jerry Rice and Steve Young.

Rodgers will look to avenge a 30-22 season-opening home loss to the 49ers.

"It will be fun. I went to a few baseball games there growing up, and saw a game there when I was in college," Rodgers said. "Stadium's got a lot of tradition. Looks like we're kind of fortunate with the weather right now. Still wonder what that's going to be like."

Rodgers returns to Northern California, where he became a college star for California across San Francisco Bay in Berkeley, with a healthy cast of receivers and the swagger of a Super Bowl champion.

When Rodgers dropped to No. 24 in the 2005 draft after Alex Smith went No. 1, he was asked about his disappointment. He matter-of-factly said, "Not as disappointed as the 49ers will be that they didn't draft me."

Now, everybody in the Bay Area and beyond will be watching his every move again.

Even San Francisco's opportunistic, ball-hawking defence realizes just how hard it will be to rattle Rodgers or get him off his game. He hasn't thrown an interception in five straight games and 177 passes.

Horoscopes

Aries

March 21 - April 20

Today's new moon urges you to make the most of an opportunity of some kind. Being the ambitious sort you want to move up in the world, so let the powers that be know what you can do — by doing it.

Taurus

April 21 - May 21

At some stage today, you will realize that life is both more complicated and more simple than you have up until now imagined. What matters though is that you are thinking for yourself. So few people ever do.

Gemini

May 22 - June 21

The new moon will give you a pointer as to what you should be doing and who you should be doing it with. It also suggests that you could make some serious money, but only as part of a team.

Cancer

June 22 - July 23

You can now see with the utmost clarity what needs to be done to restore a relationship to its former glory. Don't let what went before get in the way of what needs to be done right now.

Leo

July 24 - Aug. 23

You run the risk of getting bogged down by details that could and should be left until another day, if not ignored altogether. Focus on essentials only, such as getting ahead in your career and making a fortune.

Virgo

Aug. 24 - Sept. 23

There is nothing you cannot do if you put your mind to it. Today's new moon in Capricorn will give you the confidence you need to embark on a new adventure, something you have wanted to do for years.

Libra

Sept. 24 - Oct. 23

Use whatever information comes your way today to your advantage. Most likely you will learn something about a social rival or work associate that they don't want you to know. At last you've got some leverage!

Scorpio

Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

The more you talk things through with partners and colleagues today, the more they and you will understand that your interests are one and the same. Communication is the key to success — and lasting friendship.

Sagittarius

Nov. 23 - Dec. 21

Follow your instincts today, especially where money matters and business deals are concerned. No matter what the facts and figures may say if you sense that something is not quite right you must hold back.

Capricorn

Dec. 22 - Jan. 20

What would you do if you knew you could not fail? So why are you not doing it now? A new moon in your sign makes this the ideal day to follow your dream, no matter how outrageous it may be.

Aquarius

Jan. 21 - Feb. 19

What you need to convince yourself of today is that your fear is based on an illusion caused by your determination to always seem to be in control. Let fate guide you over the next 24 hours. You'll enjoy the results.

Pisces

Feb. 20 - March 20

Today's new moon suggests you are about to make new friends, and what these new friends have to tell you will get you thinking in interesting ways. You don't know it all — at least not yet. SALLY BROMPTON

LEARN THE FACTS AND PROTECT YOURSELF

When it comes to buying, selling, refining and recycling precious metals, OttawaGold is the leading, trusted authority in the industry. We are leading the way by providing a trusted tradition of ethical practices, information and education as well as unparalleled service to each and every customer. We have made major investments to acquire state-of-the-art gold testing equipment to assure exact details of the items being tested. You will be involved in each step along the way.

HERE ARE A FEW WAYS WE TEST YOUR GOLD:

ACID SCRATCH TEST

The first step we use is an acid scratch test. This may be the only test that is used if the test goes well. We scratch the item on a smooth touch stone (similar to slate). This does not damage the piece in any way, but makes a fine mark on the stone.

SPECIFIC GRAVITY MACHINE

The second step that may be conducted is a measurement of your item's density. By weighing the item first on a normal scale, and then underwater, the density is calculated. Since gold is a very heavy metal, the density allows us to calculate the purity of your gold.
